2. Hire out pitch, bar & facilities

Any indoor or outdoor space and venue can be hired out - but by doing it online, your club is able to sell those all the time, not just when a club official is available to call or meet in person.

With Bookteq integrated with your Pitchero club website, everything is in one place and easy to manage.

3. Show customers what's available and when

Each club gets a Bookteq calendar that displays on their Pitchero website so there are no double bookings or confusion for either customers or club.

Clubs have full control over choosing what areas of a club or different venues can be hired. This can be edited at any time as demand or circumstances change.

4. Manage multiple venues in one place

The advantage of using Bookteq, via your Pitchero club website, is the ability to see all of your club's bookings across all of your sites.

With bigger clubs and multiple grounds, it could get confusing and unwieldy with spreadsheets and changing availability.

But, a club official doesn't need separate accounts, logins or software.

Instead, this centralised approach means a club volunteer can view and edit information for any venue hire. It'll save time and be easier to understand.
