

24/7 REMOTE BUY DESK

It's a new world, with an ever-changing supply chain landscape. How will you evolve to meet demand in the new Digital Revolution?

Let's Face the Realities

- Prices on average are up 12-15% and climbing,
- Lead times are extended by 30 -50% on some commodities
- Stock-outs are increasing unplanned downtime on revenue-generating assets
- How are you mitigating the impact?
- How are you covering your...assets?

Impact on Supply Chain Expected to Continue

For all its sophistication, the global supply chain wasn't built for resiliency, but rather efficiency. We learned that heavy dependency on off-shore production and just-in-time supply chains left us with no flexibility and no surplus capacity to address demand surges. Experts expect that the impact on the supply chain is going to continue well into 2023, and those disruptions are impacting the ability of maintenance teams and FM professionals to meet their performance goals and maintain their plants/facilities because of part shortages, stock-outs, and extended lead times.

What if You Need a Part Immediately, not in Two Weeks?

In addition to delivering Actionable Insights & Recommendations to help customers better understand their workflows and how the MRO/FM spares supply chain directly impacts key performance metrics, SDI is also extending our 24/7 Remote Buy Desk.

When you need a part/product, simply call or email us. We will implement our intelligent, automated sourcing to secure a minimum of three highly competitive quotes for each item sourced.

- 24/7 remote buy desk for non-stock orders (tail, indirect, MRO, GNFR)
- Plug in instantly to leverage SDI's buying power and 50 years of supply chain expertise.
- Flexible and scalable specialized staff augmentation in a variable cost model
- Enables staff to focus on core competencies – Planners focus on planning. Mechanics focus on turning a wrench, etc.
- Includes all MRO, tailspend, indirect materials and consumables, even Goods Not for Resale

Why SDI?

SDI's people, process, and technology have enabled the world's most efficient supply chains for the last 50 years. Our passion is supply chain, and we're driven to enable organizations to achieve tremendous savings and efficiencies, improving their lives overall.

Here for you, 24/7/365
