

BOOK EXCERPT

"IAM AWESOME, WHO ARE YOU?"

In a time long, long ago, a large and beautifully carved sculpture in the shape of an infinity symbol stood high on the edge of the lake. The sculpture celebrated two communities living together in harmony. It is still unknown what caused the battle between the Hill people and the Lake people, but the Storm of Storms appeared at the same time.

The Symbol of Fortune and Prosperity was forever lost in the lake, and the town felt the wrath of Mother Nature for many years. Over time, the two communities eventually merged into one, although it has always been an uneasy co-existence.

THE ORDINARY WORLD

I am here. I am now.
This is me. Can't you see?
Same Same, is the game.

IN THE KNOWN
WE DO NOT GROW.
