Why a digital Screen Subscription?

A high-resolution LED display will be the most effective and efficient marketing tool you can deploy. With a display that can deliver crisp, clear photos and videos of your products and services, you have the opportunity to drive engagement with the 1000s of cars that pass by your business every day.

Low average cost per 1000 impressions.

According to the U.S. Small Business Association, no other form of advertising comes close to matching the efficiency and cost-effectiveness of an outdoor LED display.

Instead of a large capital expense, you can align your monthly marketing budget to include a super-efficient and effective LED display for just a few hundred dollars a month. Dial back just a little on your Facebook, Google, or local radio ads and add in an LED Display to your marketing program. With an estimated minimum return on investment of 15%, your losing money not having one. Check out our ROI calculator to see what additional revenue you could be generating.
