For over a century, ELLWOOD has grown through innovation and acquisition into the leading supplier of quality metals and custom-engineered components for critical applications worldwide. Beginning with steelmaking and casting through finish machined and coated products ready for assembly, we have become a premier vertically integrated company.

We are proud to be family-owned, and while our footprint now spans more than 25 locations across North America, we haven't lost sight of what's right: treating our employees, industry partners and customers like family.
