hc1 Named a Winning Company in the 2022 Powderkeg Unvalley Awards

Digital community for tech companies, investors and professionals presents the annual awards to recognize the best tech companies to work for across the United States

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 17, 2021 — hc1, the leader in critical insight, analytics, and solutions for precision health, has been announced as a winner in multiple categories of the 2022 Powderkeg Unvalley Awards. Powderkeg, a connection engine for tech founders, investors and professionals at startups between the coasts, founded the awards to celebrate the most exciting, fastest-growing tech companies beyond Silicon Valley.

hc1 was recognized in the following categories:

- Top Health Tech Companies
- Tech Companies With the Best Benefits
- Best Remote Companies to Work For
- Top Tech Companies
- Tech Companies With the Best Work-Life Balance
- Best Tech Companies to Work For

“We’re truly humbled to be recognized as a tech leader at a national level,” said Lauren VanDenBoom, VP of Marketing at hc1. “For the past decade, we’ve worked hard to utilize technological advances to improve healthcare. Building a good culture around a strong set of core values is a huge part of building a good business. We are honored our team has been recognized for the work they are doing to turn lab data into personalized insights that improve healthcare for all patients.”

The award-winning companies were selected based on data collected from the companies for their company profile on Powderkeg, supplemented with publicly available third-party data. Companies are able to add data to their Powderkeg profile including company size, perks and benefits, funding, industry, and employee testimonials.

More than 1,000 winners were recognized in categories ranging from the top tech companies to companies with the best work life balance.

In addition to the Powderkeg Unvalley Awards, the hc1 team was honored in 2021 with Val Spangler being named to the TechPoint Tech 25 Class and Nichol Wuertemberger being named to the Indianapolis Business Journal’s inaugural class of 20 in their Twenties. In 2020, hc1 CEO and Founder Brad Bostic was honored as Indiana Chamber’s Dynamic Leader of the Year.

Powderkeg announced the award winners on Dec. 7, 2021. The winning companies were recognized at a national level and can be found here.
