Subject: Keep Your Eyes Safe and Glasses Clean This year, hygiene has been everyone's #1 priority. At our practice, we've taken your safety seriously and continue to practice the most thorough cleaning practices, precautions, and procedures. Taking it a step further, we wanted to offer a few tips for proper glasses cleaning to continue keeping you safe, even when you're not at the office with us! Lens cleaning do's: What questions about your vision? You are always welcome at our practice. Give us a call or or schedule an appointment online! Wash your hands with lotion-free soap. Clean your lenses and frame regularly with water and a drop of mild liquid lotion-free soap. Gently shake off water drops — dry your lenses with a soft, clean microfiber lens or lint-free cotton cloth. You don't even have to rub; the drops will be transferred to	What are 2-3 common questions or challenges you're hearing about a lot during patient visits? WEEK 2	CONTENT Subject: Vision Needs Change As your local ECP, we are here to address all of your vision care needs. That could mean creating a multi-pair plan that covers your primary pair, a specialized pair, and sunglasses. Technology improvements have made it possible to create specialized pairs of glasses that help you see better during work, hobbies, and life. Experience the holiday season without vision struggles, and let us make a personalized multi-pair plan for you this season!	CONTENT Life doesn't always adjust to us, though with the right tools, we can adjust to life. Sensity Fast lenses fade from dark to clear so fast. You don't have to switch glasses or deal with the awkward in-between period that most light-reactive lenses have.	CONTENT How do you prepare for sunny days? (In style, we hope!)	You shouldn't have to sacrifice style for convenience — or vice versa. With Sensity Fast lenses, you look great, effortlessly wherever you go!	CONTENT See light-reactive lenses in action.	Think of some fun things you and your staff do around the holidays as a practice and as individuals! Do you do Secret Santa, have a Friendsgiving? Post about them.

 Subject: Schedule Your Exam! As we head into a new year, it's the perfect time to schedule an eye exam! Here's why: You can start the new year strong and set yourself up for a fantastic 2021. Right now, you have some time off! Work can be a barrier to your eye health, so use this time wisely! If your insurance covers glasses and you have not used your remaining eyecare budget, or your FSA expires, now is the time to spend it or lose it. You can get the whole family's eye exams done so you won't have to worry about it later! You can take in the holiday decor (and dishes) a lot clearer! Happy holidays! 	How often do you clean your glasses throughout your busy day? Leave a comment below!	6 in 10 people are annoyed by constant lens cleaning — you don't have to be one of those 6 in 10 people. With EX3+ lenses, you experience much less cleaning because of their oil- and water-repellent technology.	Eye exams are super easy — and incredibly beneficial. You'll be thankful you did it this season.	While taking some days off for the holidays, give your eyes a break from digital devices. If they feel less strained, it might be time for a pair of computer glasses to help with digital eye strain.	How busy do you think you'll be this year for last-minute shopping? Make sure your glasses can keep up. Sensity Fast light-reactive lenses adjust to your setting for you!

W E E A 4	CONTENT Subject: Happy Thanksgiving from Our Practice to Your Family! At [insert practice], we have a lot to be thankful for: our patients, our staff, and our calling to make your vision as clear as it can be — so you can experience the world to the fullest. We hope you spend this holiday season with your family and friends, with social distancing in mind (of course)! While you're thinking about it, schedule your annual eye exam before the year ends, so you can get your vision benefits and start the year off on the right pair of glasses! We're here for you.	What are your favorite Thanksgiving dishes? (We're already looking forward to leftovers!)	It's that time of year to enjoy all the holiday movies you can — only make sure you're giving your eyes a break and cozying up with a good book too!	Thanksgiving has its share of indulgent dishes, and yet, certain ingredients are actually healthy for your eyes! Deep orange and yellow vegetables such as sweet potatoes, squash, and carrots are tokens of Thanksgiving — and they're rich in beta-carotene!	CONTENT Happy Thanksgiving from all of us at [insert practice]!	CONTENT Consider sharing some posts about how you and your team celebrated Thanksgiving at your practice. If you didn't do anything like a Friendsgiving, share some decorations with your audience.

WEEK 1	CONTENT Subject: Take a Break from Screens This year, we've spent a lot of time on screens. As your local eye care provider, we want to protect your eyes from blue light damage! Did you know that blue light primarily comes from the sun? And that 15 minutes of sun is equal to 8 hours of screen time? Start 2021 with an eye-health-related resolution: to give your eyes a break from screens and minimize the risks and discomfort that is associated with blue light, such as scatter/haze, age-related macular degeneration, and issues with sleep. To help you out, practice the 20-20-20 rule more often: every 20 minutes, stare at an object 20 feet away for 20 whole seconds. If you're experiencing symptoms of digital ove strain such as blurred vision, sore over and sonsitivity to light, schodulo	CONTENT Happy New Year!
