What is the future of transport for South Australia?
How does the SA government plan to invest in transport infrastructure?
How does that impact the private sector, SA road users, local councils, and the rest of Australia?

Find out when SA Minister for Transport, Infrastructure, Local Government and Planning Stephan Knoll joins Ian Webb (former Roads Australia Chief Executive and current ARRB Board Member) on Thursday, August 6, for the second in a series of virtual events for the transport industry - Enhancing Mobility and Connectivity In A New Future World.

Join our online audience for this event, and you'll have direct access to the Minister and be able to ask all the hard-hitting questions via an exclusive Q&A session.

Minister Knoll will speak about where the future of transport for SA is headed, including plans for rural and regional SA, and where the State Government plans to invest.
YOUR CHANCE TO BE PART OF THE SA INFRASTRUCTURE FUTURE

STEPHAN KNOLL MP

Stephan Knoll was elected to the South Australian Parliament as the Member for Schubert in 2014. He was appointed as the Minister for Transport, Infrastructure and Local Government and the Minister for Planning in the Marshall Government in March 2018.

Stephan previously served as the Shadow Minister for Police, Emergency and Correctional Services and Road Safety from 2017 to 2018.

He was born and educated in Adelaide and completed a Bachelor of Commerce (Marketing). Following this, Stephan became the General Manager at his family’s business, Barossa Fine Foods. It was a role that taught him the difficulties that small businesses face as they seek to grow.

He has served as Chair of Flavour SA, inaugural Vice Chair of Food SA and Chair of Barossa Food, giving Stephan a deep understanding of one of the state’s growth sectors. Stephan is a member of the Angaston and District Lions Club and Patron of the Tanunda Show, Mt Pleasant Show and Barossa Swimming Club.

Stephan and his wife Amy live in Angaston with their two daughters.

IAN WEBB

Ian Webb served as Chief Executive of Roads Australia, the national peak body for Australia’s road industry from 2003 to 2018 and has an extensive knowledge of the stakeholders and policy issues facing the industry. During this period he was also seconded to Geneva as Director-General of the International Road Federation. His career includes 17 years as a career diplomat and 30 years at Chief Executive level in both the public and private sectors in NSW and Victoria.

WEBINAR DETAILS

Date: Thursday 6th August
Time: 2pm - 3pm (AEST)
Topic: Enhancing Mobility and Connectivity in a new future world
Price: $20
Special Guests:
Stephan Knoll MP, SA Minister for Transport, Infrastructure, Local Government and Planning
Ian Webb, current ARRB Board Member and former Roads Australia CEO

There will be opportunities to ask questions directly of both guests via an interactive question and answer session.

Click below to register for this webinar.