

See For Yourself

See what Equinix Metal can deliver for your business with guidance from our experts.

Test the benefits of bare metal performance with zero risk

As digital business leaders consider how to optimize their infrastructure in response to ever-growing data volume and speed, Equinix Metal could be an ideal answer. But why guess? To really understand how an interconnected bare metal solution can help you transform your application delivery, consider a purpose-built evaluation program supported by Equinix experts and designed to scale with your business. That is the goal of the Equinix Metal Premium Evaluation.

Is this right for you?

An immersive, customized solution evaluation experience offers a risk-free way to see how Equinix Metal can benefit your business, whether you're a growing SaaS or service provider, a digital enterprise converting to the cloud or a startup looking to push the boundaries with more powerful infrastructure.

Finally, an evaluation program that combines unlimited infrastructure and deep technical engagement to experience the power of interconnected bare metal.

How it works

Determine evaluation goals

In a kick-off call with our engagement team, we'll discuss your current situation and learn what you're trying to accomplish and improve. We'll want to hear all your frustrations and challenges as well as expectations and dreams, and the features and capabilities you're most interested in.

Develop a customized plan

After a technical workshop, Equinix experts will take what we learn from you and develop a comprehensive, customized infrastructure design that makes the best use of Equinix Metal and interconnection capabilities and resources to address your goals.

Access our entire platform

During the evaluation you'll get access to our entire platform of hardware, Equinix interconnection capabilities and support services. We'll pair you with the experts and resources you need to successfully complete a full evaluation on Equinix Metal.

Leverage our expertise

We'll set up a private Slack channel to stay connected and informed, and to ensure your team has access to our platform, DevOps, networking and product experts during your evaluation.

Stay connected

At milestone points throughout the evaluation, we'll check in to review your experience. We also believe you will want to continue experiencing the performance and benefits you get from Equinix Metal, so we'll share additional information on pricing, master services agreements and ongoing program support.

EQUINIX

What you can expect

Alignment

An alignment meeting with the Equinix Metal team to understand your current state, clarify issues and opportunities and outline key requirements for an Equinix Metal trial.

Technical Workshop

A technical workshop to more deeply understand your requirements and constraints and gather details needed to build an evaluation environment.

Evaluation Environment Creation

A trial environment built and tested by the Equinix Solution Validation Center based on your requirements so you can install workloads on Equinix Metal.

Crafted Solution

Equinix experts will work with your team to build-out the required program and craft solution diagrams to ensure we have shared objectives.

Equinix Metal Interconnection Presentation

We'll equip you to (or we can do it for you) demonstrate and validate your crafted solution against your business initiatives and goals - outlining next steps for your implementation team and business leaders.

Go-Forward Plan

Based on your implementation plan, we'll help you craft the right Equinix Metal solution for you and your goals including terms, pricing and implementation requirements for ongoing Equinix Metal support.

Learn more about Equinix Metal Interconnection

Equinix Metal provides bare metal-as-a-service for fast, automated, global and secure digital processing where and when it's needed. As part of Platform Equinix, Equinix Metal offers extremely-low-latency services for improved performance and accessibility on the industry's most consistent, secure and sustainable platform.

Ready to get started?

If you want to explore how Equinix Metal can help your enterprise, contact your Equinix sales representative for more information.

Metal.Equinix.com

Power Your Digital Leadership at Equinix

At Equinix, we believe digital infrastructure is your greatest source of competitive advantage. Digital leaders need one place to bring together and interconnect the foundational infrastructure to power their success. We are the world's digital infrastructure company and our trusted platform makes it happen.

Many businesses struggle with fragmented, complex infrastructure that spans private and public environments. They want one place to simplify and bring it all together.

We deliver a single global platform to create the foundational infrastructure to power your success. Place infrastructure wherever you need it. Connect to everything you need to succeed. Seize opportunity with agility, speed and confidence.

Equinix.com

Questions? Metal.Equinix.com/about/contact