

Now Available: COVID-19 Vaccine Resources for Consumers

Resources Developed to Help Consumers Make a More Informed Vaccination Choice

The Joint Commission recently developed a page for consumers with resources that provides information about the COVID-19 vaccines. While access to at least one of the vaccines is improving throughout the United States, many eligible Americans still hesitate to seek vaccination. The page provides insight from Joint Commission experts about the vaccines, and it includes resources from the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and sample content health care staff can use to promote the importance of getting vaccinated to the populations they serve.

Sourced from the CDC, with some items developed by The Joint Commission, available information includes the following:

- Joint Commission blog posts
  - Addressing Vaccine Hesitancy to Protect One Another
  - Vaccine Hesitation Among Senior Living and Home Care Workers
  - Joint Commission Joins COVID-19 Vaccine Alliance
- Take 5: COVID-19 Vaccines and Your Health podcast

- COVID-19–Related Vaccine Information
  - COVID-19 Vaccine Basics: What You Need to Know
  - Health Equity and the COVID-19 Vaccines
  - Myths and Facts About COVID-19 Vaccines
  - What to Expect After Getting a COVID-19 Vaccine
- Social media graphics

The Joint Commission encourages all individuals eligible to be vaccinated to get the vaccine as soon as one is available in your area. 