

Collaborative Process Management

iGrafx®

PROVIDE PROCESS TRANSPARENCY AND UNDERSTANDING THROUGHOUT YOUR ORGANIZATION

Turn your processes into business assets with a centralized platform that stores and manages change of processes as well as all associated information. By leveraging this reusable knowledge companies will train and on board new employees faster, accelerate projects, and provide process transparency and understanding throughout the organization.

With centralized process knowledge, iGrafx Collaborative Process Management solutions help companies become more productive in developing, documenting, communicating, and managing business process information. Our browser-based solution requires no desktop installation, viewer, or separate publishing step.

View current process information and compare with historical data.

Easily identify and address information gaps.

Identify and prioritize business critical processes, systems, personnel and suppliers to ensure business continuity and effective knowledge sharing.

Tie roles and responsibilities to key process content.

Manage and govern change with document lifecycle management.

Operate More Efficiently: Centralize, Share and Manage Process Knowledge:

With iGrafx Collaborative Process Management Solutions, it's easy to be on the same page within your organization by leveraging a central repository that allows you to store, share and manage change across all of your processes and associated information.

About iGrafx:
