

Making corporate communications accessible in a Zoom-first world

Distributed teams make sharing internal comms harder than ever. But getting the message out has never been more important. We all consume information differently and younger workforces increasingly prefer video. How can communication teams rise to the challenge?

1. Seamlessly capture the message, however you communicate

Whether it's an all-hands, town hall, or prerecorded video, it's easy to capture

- Capture and transcribe the feed instantly with Realtime to speed up sharing
- Quickly pull Zoom meetings into Trint with our Zoom integration
- Stay focused so you don't miss important updates

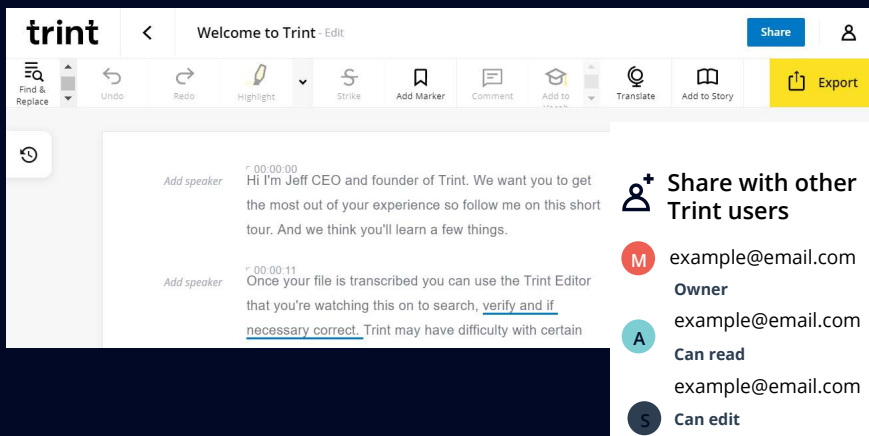

2. Tell the story, no matter how diverse your business

Inclusive businesses engage their workforce through different media and in different languages

3. Communications as content

With growing needs for content, communications can be stored, referenced and reused long after the event

- Caption videos and post full transcripts, so your workforce can consume the message how they prefer

- Easily edit and cut the key moments of message to make accessible and shareable across the organization

- Translate your transcript to add subtitles and share the full transcript

- Lift quotes and key moments for social media

- Make the full transcript available for investors, board members or other interested parties

- Compile main messages for employee engagement, training or other business requirements

About Trint

Trint unlocks the power of speech. Our platform uses A.I. to automatically transcribe audio and video, making it easy to find the moments that matter. We connect teams for seamless, fast and secure content creation.
