

Get to the final cut, faster

Video Producers need to get to the final cut faster. The way we consume content is shifting. Demand for video is massively on the rise. Customers expect brands to share content on the channels they use with younger audiences consuming more and more video comms.

Producers are in high demand and face growing pressure to keep up. Now it's simpler than ever to create accessible content with speedy workflows.

1. Say goodbye to manual transcription

- Easily search for key soundbites
- Put an end to scrubbing video files
- Move your work forward and speed up your workflows

2. Grab precise time codes

- Highlight the key moments that tell your story
- Quickly find and export time coded selects
- Share your transcript with audiovisual editors and other creatives

3. Easily caption

- Grab ready-made captions
- Transcribe the final cut to post the full transcript
- Easily translate and subtitle foreign language content
