

IRA Contribution

Once per year in January the company is willing to contribute up to $1,000 yearly towards the IRA of your choice. The actual amount is determined by management.

To Qualify:

- You must be full time and work for at least 90 days
- Average revenue per hour over $200 throughout the year
- Provide details to Daniel on how to pay the contribution to your IRA
- Have excellent attendance

If you've only worked full time for part of the year, the amount will be prorated based on the total number of months you worked full time.

Full time is defined by our company as an average of 30 hours or more per week.

Excellent attendance is defined by our company as missing no more than 3 days of work and no more than 3 late clock-ins per year.
