For over twenty years, LeaderStat has been a trusted healthcare recruitment and consulting firm, offering interim leadership and direct care support staff, executive search, retained search, travel nurses, provider recruitment and consulting services. We understand your organization requires a higher level of expertise and are here to support you with a variety of service offerings.

Our service lines

Interim Services

If you need a leader or direct care team member immediately, LeaderStat's interim division will step in at a moment's notice to find the best fit for your organization. You will benefit from LeaderStat's extensive network of talented and accomplished interim managers, CNAs, RNs, LPNs, and interim c-level executives. We will quickly fill your vacant leadership and staff positions, ensuring a seamless transition while providing ample time to locate the ideal permanent candidate. Our interim healthcare staff bring expertise to drive essential financial and clinical systems so your organization continues to function at its optimal level.

Executive Search

Ongoing vacancies in leadership, executive roles and c-suite positions can be devastating to an organization. LeaderStat is committed to placing the right directors and top executives in healthcare organizations across the country. Our team of executive search consultants work with you to understand the key components of the position and your operation. Our process includes extensive research of our candidates' qualifications, references and career goals.

Travel Nursing

When you need qualified nurses fast, LeaderStat is here to help. Our team of experienced healthcare recruiters understands that when your organization has a travel nursing need, time is of the essence. We specialize in recruiting highly qualified, experienced travel nurses who are committed to your organization's success. Whether you have a critical need or difficult-to-fill position, our travel nurses are able to jump in to a new environment and get up to speed quickly. Our extensive pre-screening process ensures they have excellent clinical, analytical, and communication skills.

Provider Recruitment

We understand the value of an advanced practice provider's skills and experience, this is why we have staff who are dedicated to finding exceptional candidates for short and long term assignments. Our team of experts includes a Clinical Director, who is a board certified Nurse Practitioner and provides the unique insight as an NP in clinical practice.

Consulting

Our nationally-recognized healthcare consultants can help you maintain a financially healthy organization, bounce back from a difficult survey, improve the quality of your clinical systems, implement successful marketing systems and much more. Our consultants have worked in key leadership roles in a variety of healthcare settings and have hands-on knowledge of regulations, reimbursement rules and facility operations. Our consultants have also operated facilities and developed innovative programs repositioning facilities in the market.

As a recruiting firm with 20 years of experience, we are experts at placing highly qualified healthcare providers nationwide.
