Save time and resources with automation.

Technology is revolutionizing everything including the washroom. Smart devices can monitor traffic, report temperatures and track consumables, while creating reports and reminders that maximize efficiency.

With a fully connected system that syncs to the cloud, the facilities manager has real-time access to data that will help determine schedules for refilling, cleaning and removing trash. Information is conveniently available online through the cloud and warning emails can be set up to flag urgent needs.

Analyzing this data can not only improve efficiency and save money but it translates into an improved customer experience as well.

Advanced, customized technology provides you with real-time visibility and decision-making through dashboards and alarms. The result is washroom efficiencies, lower costs, diminished environmental impact and ideal inventory stocking.
