• VendNovation CLOUD BASED SOFTWARE ACCESS 24/7

Cloud technology means there's no hardware to crash. Each machine is connected directly to the internet: cellular or landline, so there's no need for software to install separately at each site. This provides real time reporting - no handhelds or remote data collection devices. Reports, alerts, planogram management, route management - all are centralized on the internet. Even in the case of a network failure without access to the internet, the machine continues to vend. Transactions are stored in a local cache.

Once re-connected, the data syncs and reporting is back online.
