ONLINE TRAINING

CME Recovery Online Workshops Series

OVERVIEW

CME is pleased to present the second phase of our new e-learning series, delivered by CME experts and manufacturers who will share real-world tips and best practices on a variety of operational topics. Each session provides participants with tangible takeaways and provides the critical supports during the pandemic manufacturers need to weather the COVID-19 crisis and beyond.

WHO CAN BENEFIT?

Designed for manufacturers by manufacturers, CME training aims to help manufacturers across the country to improve their operations, their competitiveness and their bottom line. Our training series is designed in three modules so front-line workers, operational staff, and leadership in your organization can benefit. Choose from sessions in three categories: operational efficiency & productivity; improving workplace safety; and leadership.
