Online Anti-racism Training

I specialize in offering accessible, research-based, and field tested online anti-racism training for your staff and board.

The one-year license provides you with access to eight hours of online training – powered by Niche Academy – to start the work of dismantling institutional racism in your library or nonprofit. When you subscribe to the online training package, we'll set you up with your own institution-specific training environment. You'll be able to invite your staff to go through the training and then track their progress. Self-paced, interactive, and reflective, it focuses on practical action and implementation. The training includes more than 30 video segments, 32 response exercises, 8 assessments, and more than 10 hours of supplemental reading and external links.

Consultation

Sometimes training is not enough.

Via Zoom, I provide one-on-one consultation with your board, staff, or leadership on developing, implementing, and completing long-term anti-racism plans.

I collaborate with other anti-racism trainers and collectives as needed.
