

YourSkills

Enrichment week

8-12 November 2021

Monday	12:30	Finding Business information in 30 minutes	This session will highlight specialist business resources within our subscriptions at Newcastle University where providers have collated company intelligence to help you research industries, companies, demographics and markets.
Tuesday	12:00	Editing Your Work: In Discussion with the WDC	Editing is the process that helps you evaluate your own work and make it the best you possibly can. During this informal Q&A session, the Writing Development Centre will be on hand to answer all your editing questions.
	14:00	Finding audiovisual resources in 30 minutes	Interested in using audiovisual resources, such as still images, films and documentaries, or audio materials in your studies or research? This session will highlight some of the pitfalls you may encounter when hunting for audiovisual resources, and how to avoid them.
Wednesday	10:00	Write Here, Write Now	Can't find the motivation to get that assignment started or edit that thesis chapter? Overwhelmed and struggling to focus on writing or suffering writers' block? Missing the sense of community on campus? Whatever you're studying and whatever level you're studying it at, if this sounds like you then join us for our online Write Here Write Now writers' group.
	11:30	Finding newspaper resources in 30 minutes	Whatever your research topic, newspapers can be a great source of information, with news stories and editorial opinion offering a fascinating angle on a range of subjects and themes. Join us for this quick 30 minute introductory session in which we'll be exploring some of the Library's best newspaper collections and archives.
Thursday	10:00	Finding datasets and statistics in 30 minutes	In need of some statistics to illustrate a point or back up an argument in your work? Looking for some data to analyse for your research project or compare against your own findings? In this quick tips session we will introduce you to the resources available from the Library that provide statistics and reusable data.
Friday	12:00	Finding stuff for your assignments	This short session will equip you with all the tools you need to find high quality information for your research. It will take you through the basic steps for planning your search and highlight where to find academic resources, and where to find help throughout your studies.

The Library also run drop-ins and bookable appointments for advice on academic skills and information searching.

1:1 tutorials with the Liaison Team Find out more and book	In these tutorials we can offer help with literature searches, referencing or Library related queries
50-minute 1:1 tutorials with the Writing Development Centre Find out more and book	In these tutorials, we can offer in depth guidance on many aspects of your studies, from interpreting an essay question, managing your time or reading critically, to planning structure, revising for exams or strategies for editing a final draft.
Drop-in with the Academic Skills Team 20-minute 1:1 tutorials at the Marj <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Tuesday 14.00-16.00• Thursday 10.00-12.00 Find out more and book an online slot	In these 20-minute slots we aim to respond to quick, focussed questions you may have about academic skills, for example, advice about a paragraph, time management or presentations. These slots are ideal for speedy answers around a range of academic skills .

Thanks for joining us.

Questions, comments or feedback?
Let us know!

 libraryhelp@ncl.ac.uk

 academicskills@ncl.ac.uk

Scan the QR code or visit
<https://rebrand.ly/YourSkills> to view the slides from today

