"You can never really experience all a destination has to offer in one trip. One of my favorite novelties of travel? Returning to your favorite cities to uncover more treasures! Peppering in a new attraction can allow for a new favorite - get out there and see what the world has to offer!"

I have been fortunate enough to have amassed a wealth of travel knowledge at an early age. Growing up, my family operated a successful tour, travel, and transportation company in Chicago, Dallas and Denver. While cutting my teeth on the fleet of motorcoaches, one of my favorite experiences was our family bus excursion to Yellowstone National Park!

My specialization in over-the-road travel and group tours has been imperative - whether traveling on my own, with friends and family, or arranging group travel. Brightspark allows me to share my experience with impressionable student travelers, as well as expand my repertoire in a setting that is nurturing to the mind. It warms my heart to see the students grow as academics - and world travelers - as we embark together!

Educational travel builds camaraderie, forms life experience, and prepares the student for what is ahead. I am happiest when I can inspire others to wonder and explore.
