A woman with curly brown hair and a young girl with brown hair in pigtails are sitting at a white table, smiling and working on a puzzle. The woman is wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and has red nail polish. The girl is wearing a light pink short-sleeved shirt. They are both looking down at the puzzle pieces on the table. In the background, there is a colorful abstract painting on the wall. A young child with short brown hair, wearing a blue denim jacket over a white shirt, is focused on painting an Easter egg. The child is holding a paintbrush and applying red paint to a white egg that already has some colorful designs. The background is softly blurred, showing a window and some indoor plants. A semi-transparent white circle is overlaid on the top right of the image, containing the title text.

Egg-quipment

-  Potatoes
-  Knife
-  Assorted craft paints
-  Plate
-  Towel
-  Craft paper to stamp on

This is an Adult Job

1

Begin by cutting the potato in half. Press the open end of the potato onto the towel to help absorb the moisture. You will find that the insides are quite wet and can make the next step slippery and dangerous if you don't dry them.

This is an Adult Job

2

Once the open end of your potato is dry, you can begin cutting your designs into it. Use a knife or pick to make lines, circles, zig zags, and other shapes. BE CAREFUL as the potato can be slippery. Use a careful hand and take your time.

3

Press the open end of the potato to the towel to dry it again, as cutting into it can create additional moisture.

4

Press the cut end of the potato into the paint. It is easiest to put the paint on a plate for easy dipping. Remove any excess paint before stamping. (Or, you can use a brush for more detailed painting.)

5

Then, press the potato stamps to the paper and press firmly. Pull away and see your egg design on the paper. Repeat as much as you want. When you want to use a new color, just rinse the potato under water and it will rinse clean. There is no need to cut a new potato.

Egg-quipment

-  One sock (the socks need to be at least midcalf length)
-  Rice
-  Scissors
-  Twine
-  Ribbon
-  A marker
-  Tape

1

Start by looping the sock through the roll of tape and folding the edge of the sock over the tape.

2

When you have an opening, fill the sock with rice. If you don't have tape, just carefully pour the rice into the sock. You only need to fill the sock halfway. Be sure you are still able to pinch the heel of the sock.

3

Squeeze the portion of the sock filled with rice and the unfilled part of the sock (this should almost resemble a snowman with three separate parts—the smallest on top, the biggest on the bottom). Use your twine to tie both areas nice and tight!

4

Cut the top portion of the sock (the unfilled part) right down the middle. That's right! Your bunny now has ears. Using your scissors, cut from the inside of the ear to make them more petal-shaped.

5

Tie your ribbon around the bunny's neck (between the two rice-filled portions of your sock). Then use your marker to give your bunny eyes and a mouth. If you used a black sock, you can use white thread to sew the eyes and mouth.

6

If you want to add a cute little tail, grab some of the fabric from the bottommost part of the bunny, and tie it up with twine.

Egg-quipment

-  Popsicle Sticks
-  Paint
-  White Card
-  White Pom Poms
-  Mini Pink Pom Poms
-  White Pipe Cleaners
-  Glue
-  Scissors
-  Black Sharpie

1

If you already have coloured popsicle sticks then you can use them to mask your bunny nose mask, otherwise, you can paint them bright & cheerful pastel colours

2

To make the bunny's whiskers we cut two white pipe cleaners into three equal lengths. Then glue them onto the top of the popsicle stick fanning them out a little.

3

To make the teeth for the bunny mask, draw them onto card with a black Sharpie.

4

Use a dab of glue to attach them over the lower whiskers leaving a little space above.

5

To make the cheeks for the rabbit mask, use 2 white pom poms. Glue them onto the whiskers slightly overlapping the teeth. Finish off the cute bunny nose mask by gluing on a mini pink pom pom.

Egg-quipment

-  Lolly Pops
-  Styrofoam Balls
-  Googly Eyes
-  Pom Poms
-  White Sparkly Craft Foam
-  White Pipe Cleaners
-  Ribbon
-  Knitting needle
-  Hot glue gun

1

Using a knitting needle, poke holes in the styrofoam balls.

2

Once you've made the hole in the styrofoam ball, slide it onto the lolly pop stick. Fold the wrapper around the stick as tightly as you can and gently twirl the styrofoam ball as you go to make sure it covers the wrapper.

This is an Adult Job

3

Use hot glue to attach the googly eyes and pom poms for the face.

4

Cut out feet shapes from the sparkly craft foam.

This is an Adult Job

5

Then use hot glue to attach the feet to the bottom of the lolly pop.

6

Fold a pipe cleaner to make the ears. Start by making a loop on one end, about 5cm long, and wrapping the end of the pipe cleaner to keep it in place. Then make another 5cm long loop on the other side and wrap the pipe cleaner end around itself. Fold the ears upwards so they can sit on top of the bunny head.

This is an Adult Job

7

Use hot glue to attach the ears to the top of the styrofoam ball. Add two small pom poms for the bunny paws, and one small pom pom as the tail. The tail also helps to keep the bunny standing.

8

Tie a ribbon around the ears into a bow.

Egg-quipment

-  Eggs
-  Spoons
-  Team mates

1

Give each player a tablespoon and egg. The egg can be plastic, hard-boiled, or even raw—though hard-boiled eggs tend to work the best. Make sure everyone who is playing has both an egg and a spoon big enough to hold the egg before they start the race.

2

Stand at the start line with the egg and spoons ready. To create the start line, you can put down a piece of rope or tape, or even just line everyone up evenly along the grass or floor. Have everyone place the egg carefully on their spoon so they're ready to go!

3

Begin the race with a specific word or sound. You can blow a whistle, wave a flag, or say the word “go!” Make sure everyone is clear about the signal for starting the race so that each player starts at the same time.

4

Go quickly to the finish line while preventing the egg from falling. Each player should walk or run to the finish line, focusing on keeping the egg on their spoon so it doesn't fall. If an egg falls off of a spoon, that player needs to return to the start line and start over again.

5

Win the race by crossing the finish line with your balanced egg first. Once you've made it to the finish line without dropping your egg, you win! Consider having a first, second, and third place winner, or giving each player a time and seeing if they can beat their own personal record.

6

Get creative and run the race with the spoon in your mouth. You can also have a relay with team mates by passing the egg to your team mates spoon at their end. Too make things even harder, you can crawl to the other side.
