CANADIAN BACON CAMPFIRE CUP

Is that a tiny campfire in a cup?! It is indeed, and it practically crackles with smoky bacon logs, toasty sweet potato and carrot flames, and crunchy kibble embers. Serve this one under the stars. (Or in the living room at lunch, dogs will still be stoked.)

INGREDIENTS & MATERIALS

- 2-5 pieces of Crumps Natural Sweet Potato Chews (these are sliced, dehydrated pieces of sweet potato with a leathery texture for chewing)
- 2-3 slices of Carrot
- 1 Canadian Bacon Treats from Farm Fresh Pet Foods
- 1 Small cookie treat
- 1/2 C Kibble
- 1 tsp Peanut Butter and Banana Creamy Treat from West Paw*
- 1/4 C Grass-Fed Beef Gently Cooked Recipe from Open Farm
- Large or small Toppl®

*Look for natural brands without xylitol, which is toxic to dogs.

DIRECTIONS

1. First, fill the side hole in the Toppl® with peanut butter and your choice of small cookie treat. Freeze to seal.
2. Remove Toppl from the freezer and fill halfway with kibble. (If you feed raw, swap in dehydrated treats instead.)
3. Fill up the rest of the Toppl to the rim with wet or raw food.
4. Let's get this fire started! Arrange the sweet potato chews on top to look like flames, pushing them into the wet food for stability.
5. Cut the carrots into small triangles. Arrange them in front of each piece of sweet potato.
6. Place kibble around the edge of the Toppl to mimic embers.
7. Cut the smoky bacon stick treats into 4 pieces, popping them in to look like logs poking up out of the flames.
8. Feed fresh or frozen, with s'mores for the chef.

Toppl's our top pick for newbie puzzlers—and chefs! The wide-open end makes it easy for chefs to put food in AND for dogs to get it out, but it still slows taste-testers down just enough for a fun challenge.
