RED, WHITE, & BLUEBERRY

In our Declaration of Decadence, we hold these truths to be self-evident: that all dogs deserve this yummy summer number, and that it tastes just as good on regular days as holidays. Chill sweet fruit, tangy yogurt, and savory meat treats into one cool firecracker of a feast.

INGREDIENTS & MATERIALS

- 15 Freeze-Dried Raw Beef Heart Treats from West Paw
- 15 pieces of PureBites Freeze-Dried Cheddar Cheese
- 5 Tbsp Plain yogurt
- 3 Blueberries
- 1/2 Red bell pepper
- 1 slice of Dragonfruit or kiwi (without the skin)
- Star-shaped cookie cutter or ice cube mold
- Large or small Tux®

DIRECTIONS

1. Stuff Tux full of freeze-dried cheese and West Paw Beef Heart Freeze-Dried Raw Treat.
2. Use a spoon to cover the treats with yogurt.
3. Take 3 blueberries and place them in the yogurt (or 4, it's a free country).
4. Peel dragonfruit and cut a 1/2 inch slice. Use a star-shaped cookie cutter to cut out 1 star shape.
5. Cut red bell pepper in half and remove seeds. Use the cookie cutter to cut out two stars. For a sweet substitute, you could blend up some strawberries and freeze in a star-shaped mold.
6. Arrange stars on top of the Tux. Push lightly into yogurt to keep them in place.
7. Serve frozen to cool off your pup and slow their snarf.

WELLNESS WOOF!

Here's how to soothe firework anxiety: start by giving dogs a puzzle treat while playing a recording of fireworks softly in the background, months before firework season. Imperceptibly turn up the volume with every treat session. With time and patience, your dog might just associate fireworks with food fun—and be as chill as this treat.
