

We are seeking
your help in asking
the children & young people you work with
to take part and have their voices heard by government decision makers.

Zoë Robinson is the Advocate for Children & Young people in NSW.
The Advocate is an independent Statutory Officer reporting directly to NSW Parliament.

The Advocate and team, speak up for vulnerable children and young people to ensure that their rights are respected, and their points of view heard by adult decision makers.

With the support from the Minister for Families, Communities & Disability Services, ACYP is conducting interviews and focus groups with children and young people in Out of Home Care.
