Datavard Solution: Transformation Suite with Company Code Merge and Profit Center Conversion

Summary

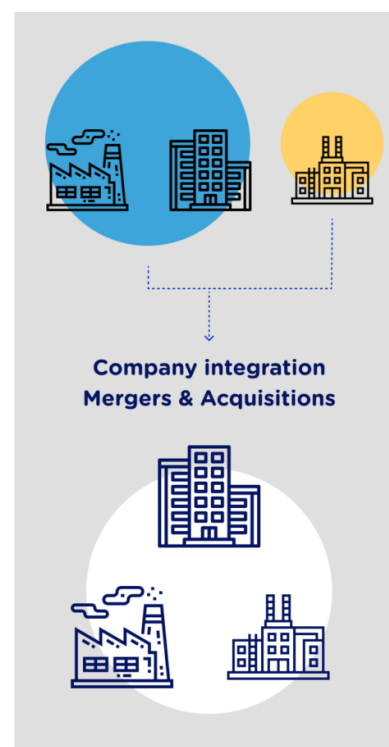

Charles Machine Works was part of an acquisition and required assistance to harmonize their SAP systems with the buying party. The acquisition process resulted in the necessity for deep and seamless integration within the company's SAP ECC systems. The business transformation included merging of multiple company codes, profit center renaming and overall system harmonization. The company code consolidation was executed for all data in SAP: customizing, master data, open processes and historical. On top of the company code conversion the profit centers and reporting was harmonized using the Datavard Transformation Suite.
