

FundApps Launches Rapportr - Making Regulatory Reports Simple

London, UK – April 7, 2020 – Regulatory Technology (RegTech) provider FundApps announces the launch of Rapportr, the first fully integrated compliance reporting engine. This ground-breaking tool sits alongside the FundApps Platform and provides reports across each regulatory package. Gaining insight across all company positions has never been easier - users are able to produce valuable management reports available in an instant, at the click of a button.

Relying on a few key people and a raft of complicated spreadsheets is how many manage Business Intelligence (BI) reporting. But, as recent events have demonstrated, this comes with risks and difficulties should people become unavailable or need to work away from the office. The risk is compounded in times of uncertainty, with increased regulatory change and greater need for business intelligence.

Complementing the work to stay on top of regulatory change, FundApps is making reporting simple with Rapportr. Utilising high-quality, company-wide operational data for the purposes of shareholding disclosure checks it's designed to take the sting out of BI reporting. High production value reports can be shared with operational teams, CCO's and Executives.

"We hope that Rapportr helps reduce some of the overhead that our clients and prospects are facing and provide reassurance that key common business reports can still be made available to stakeholders with no effort" said Jonny Bradshaw, Head of Product at FundApps.

Canadian Hedge Fund and user of FundApps' Shareholding Disclosure service stated: "We love the nice, clean and easy-to-use interface. The reports are very useful for both the compliance team, the front office and executive team who have had to put up with old PDF reports."
