Create Custom Surveys and Analyze Responses Over a Unified Platform

Surveys and polls offer a straightforward approach to tracking your customers', employees', and partners' opinions, preferences, needs, and pain points, helping you make informed business decisions. However, creating custom forms and scheduling of surveys isn't always simple, and organizations can struggle to analyze and derive meaningful insights from their survey responses. Klera helps you create custom surveys, collect data, analyze responses, and present insights as easily consumable reports, using a single interface.
