SPORTS BETTING BASICS

Betting on sports is more popular than ever these days and with the number of different Sportsbooks, it is also easier than ever. A Sportsbook is a casino that takes bets on sporting events and pays out winnings. Patrons of the casino can place bets on a variety of sports including: Football, Basketball, Baseball, Hockey, Boxing, Mixed Martial Arts (MMA), Tennis, Soccer, Auto Racing, and Golf.

This course will review how and where to place sports bets, key terminology, the variety of bets that can be made, odds, and payouts.

TRAIN CRITICAL TOPICS, SUCH AS:

- THE HISTORY OF SPORTS BETTING IN THE US
- PATH TO FEDERAL LEGALIZATION
- BETTING TERMINOLOGY
- COMMON BETTING SCENARIOS

Sports Betting Basics:
Common Betting Scenarios

Bet #	Team	Spread	Money Line	Total Points
20	Miami	+6 -110	+200	50 O/U -110
21	Green Bay	-6 -110	-220

Point Spread

If Green Bay is favored over Miami with a spread of -6, and the guest bets on Green Bay, Green Bay will need to win by 7 points or more for them to cover the spread and win the bet. If a guest bets on Miami at +6, Miami must lose by fewer than 6 points or win outright for them to win their bet.
