Features & Databases
LicenseCheck

If left to you and your team, credentialing will be another tedious task consuming time you could be spending on more impactful projects. Use a better option to simplify your review process by cutting out the risk of human error and automating any ongoing continuous reviews.

Credentialing in Brief

Credentialing in the lowest hanging fruit for any organization in safeguarding their staff, patients, and reputation from medical professionals' incompetence or malfeasense. It should be no surprise that regulatory reviewers such as JCHAO and NCQA require organizations to regularly check the status of their staff's licenses and certifications against multiple databases.

What does LicenseCheck do for you?

LicenseCheck seeks to simplify the review process, cut down on human error, and give you the peace of mind that you're staff meet the requirements of their positions.

Primary Source Verification
Confirmation of education, qualifications, and certifications will come from the original issuing entity. For example, a state nursing board will be used to verify a granted/renewed RN or LPN/LVN license.

Audit-Ready Documentation
Credential certifications will be avaliable virtual or via PDF and formated to meet regulations. Records of past credentialing will be avaliable via the online platform to show evidence of ongoing due diligence.

Red Flags & Renewals
Notifications of red flags and/or deficiencies in the records will be sent to according to configurable workflows in the online platforms. The same can be done to give alerts of license expirations and renewal due dates.

Multi-Database Review Platform
Use our online platform which will allow you to perform your own checks with the many databases avaliable (See right). Or use your platform to configure permissions and workflows to handle mulitple users.
