

OVERVIEW

Each year, millions of women and children are trafficked into sexual exploitation around the world, with India claiming the most victims. The majority of women enter brothels in one of three ways: they were trafficked, born into it, or impoverished and forced to repay never-ending debts through bonded servitude.

SUDARA

Sudara is a mission-based certified Benefit Corporation tackling the world's fastest growing crime, human trafficking. Our operations and partner-based ecosystem fuels a virtuous supply chain that produces ethically made pajamas and loungewear, created by women in India who work to remain free from sex slavery. Revenue generated from sales is reinvested in training programs and sustainable, dignified employment opportunities for more women to avoid or escape sex slavery.

DVTD'S IMPACT

DVTD's partnership with Sudara in 2020 resulted in lives saved during an unprecedented year of uncertainty and pandemic. By choosing Sudara's virtuous supply chain, DVTD directly helped the women we support earn fair wages and receive holistic wellness services including safe housing, food, and medical care during what was, and still is, an extremely dangerous year for those already at high risk in India.
