Gerald Karolyi, Head of Business Administration & Group Controlling at the Austrian Institute of Technology (AIT) says about working with Markus:

"Markus accompanied the complete introduction of the Unit4 FP&A prevero Project Performance Management at our company and also looks after the existing planning and reporting solution professionally and technically. His extraordinarily high level of personal commitment, his project management skills and his excellent knowledge of prevero and ETL made it easy to complete the project on time and on budget. More than 500 users are currently working with the business-critical controlling system, which we would buy from this provider again at any time and have this team implement."
