

Building Your Career in a Covid World

Working on your career during a pandemic creates its own set of unique challenges and you need to find a way to create a plan to help with your next transition.

Your challenge is to best position yourself in an unpredictable market, stay motivated, and be able to present your career in a way that feels natural to you.

Attend this workshop to get practical insights on how to plan your next transition.

How do I know I should attend this workshop?

1. Are you unsure about how to start your next career move?
2. Do you know what strengths you can bring to your next career?
3. Do you feel confident about how to present your career in a virtual environment?
4. Do you want to know how to network effectively?
5. Could you benefit from specific and targeted feedback on your career plan?

If you answer yes to these questions, then this workshop is for you.

What will I do?

You will:

- Explore the current job market and how this has been affected by Covid-19
- Identify the goals for your next career move
- Develop a strategic search plan
- Create your online presence to network
- Explore networking skills

What are the outcomes?

By the end of this workshop you will:

- Identify how to design your own bespoke career plan
- Create an authentic approach on how to network online
- Receive peer and expert feedback on your next move

How do I prepare?

You need to do the following:

1. Bring your current LinkedIn profile and/or resume
2. Think about your next career move. What would it look like?
3. What are the current challenges you are facing? What one question would you like to have answered by the end of this webinar?

Who is iOpener?

iOpener is an international consultancy that helps organizations achieve their strategic and commercial goals by maximizing the performance, productivity and happiness of business-critical employees.