

About Liz Harris

Liz is an accomplished Learning and Development Professional with 21 years' corporate experience. Her passion is for developing people and helping them achieve their potential. She is a qualified practitioner in the psychometric assessment tools Strength Deployment Inventory and Myers Briggs and places huge value on the practical learning experiences these instruments bring to teams and individuals.

Liz also has extensive experience in the design and delivery of Management and Leadership Development Programs and in driving forward Learning and Development strategies. Her delivery style is highly interactive within a structured outline and she aims to create a relaxed yet productive atmosphere in the training room. She communicates well with small and large groups at all levels of seniority and coaches 1 to 1 at an executive level.

Examples of Liz's work:

- Designed and delivered a Strategic Influencing and Personal Impact workshop for the top 250 of a global telecoms organization
- Coached a Work Winning Team at one of the UK's largest construction companies to successfully bid for a multi-million pound facilities management contract
- Designed a 3 day workshop for 600 appointees to a new retail banking role
- Trained a team of 12 'occasional trainers' to deliver a high impact communications rolling programme in Ghana
- Delivered an assessed qualification programme for a major US airline
- Transformed the presentations skills of an entire marketing department, within a household name in the food sector, to ensure high competence and confidence levels
