

To reset a bridge:

There should be 2 devices. To reset you will need to unplug one of them and plug it into the same room as the other one. Press the pair button on one, then the pair button on the other. Once paired the LED light should be ON, on both. Then you can move the one device back to the original outlet it was in. Make sure they are plugged directly into the wall outlet and not a power strip. This should reestablish communications with the solar system.
