

John Withers

John Withers CII became the Managing Director of Priority International in 2012 and is based in Northern Ireland. Priority is a family business that has been providing bespoke international investigation and intelligence services over the last 60 years. John's experience of working in the global arena has allowed him to develop and hone the inter-personal skills, attention to detail and ability to maintain an international network, enabling him to efficiently manage international casework. He originally joined the business in 1992, having completed an extensive internship in the early 1990s throughout Ireland and the UK.

From 2002 to 2012 he was part of the UK Governments, British Antarctic Survey as a Field Dive Officer & Base Commander, and from 2005 to 2012 he was a British Antarctic Territory Magistrate. He was a recipient of the Polar Medal from Her Majesty the Queen in 2012 for services to the UK in the Antarctic.

John is a Board Member, Treasurer and UK/Ireland Regional Director for the Council of International Investigators (CII) and the International Regional Director for the US National Association of Legal Investigators (NALI).
