

Ms. Kashiana Singh

1. She is a voracious reader and a prolific writer, with nearly 100 poems being published across various international platforms over the last couple of years. She is also a frequent reader of her poetry at many popular reading events and you can listen to her reading her work by visiting her website - kashianasingh.com.

2. Her vast management experience and unique approach to delivery and operations has won her many accolades through her career across different corporate organizations and she continues to be well known for her inspirational style of people leadership

Kashiana Singh has 27 years of management experience with the last 22 years concentrated in client service and operational leadership. She has worked across the length and breadth of delivery in organizations like Hutchison Max, Sify, Airtel, Hewitt Associates and now serves as a Vice President for a multinational professional services organization, Alight Solutions which is an affiliate of the Blackstone group. She is based out of Chicago, US and is proud of her work with large and diverse global teams. She is well known for inspirational leadership, adaptability and change management.

Kashiana is a TEDx speaker in the USA and her one talk was on her life mantra of "Work as Worship."

When she is not working, she can be found writing or reading poetry. She has published two collections - Shelling Peanuts and Stringing Words and a chapbook called Crushed Anthills.