

C-me and your virtual Accreditation

Enjoy the benefits of becoming accredited to use C-me effectively

Why become C-me Accredited?

Our virtual Accreditation events are a simple and cost-effective induction into using the C-me profiling tool. The purpose of these events is to equip you to confidently apply your learning in your situation. You could be an independent learning and development practitioner, a coach, a consultant or someone with in-house HR or development responsibility.

As an independent accredited practitioner, you can enjoy the benefits of discounts on profiles, access to marketing support and invites to our free 'Activators' networking and community online events. C-me provides you with a flexible tool that can immediately add value to your offering.

As an in-house accredited practitioner, you can enjoy the benefits of discounts on profiles used throughout your business and access to further advice and support from the C-me team. A confident application of C-me can help you develop knowledgeable talent strategy, improve retention rates, build successful teams and help you develop a thriving company culture built on real understanding.

What's included in C-me Virtual Accreditation?

- Enjoy being introduced to using 'colour profiles' at a time to suit you. Our virtual Accreditations provide flexible options to fit in with you (see below)
- Understand the background, history and validity of C-me
- Hear more about how to get the most from C-me; with examples of online games, exercises and delivery techniques
- Acquire new methods to deliver depth, understanding and connection with your colleagues, teams, suppliers and clients
- Learn more about yourself from your personal High Performance Plus Profile Report
- Receive an Accreditation Manual
- Leave with an action plan and marketing tools to help you use C-me effectively
- Receive a further 2 FREE profiles to put into practice your new knowledge
- Ask all your questions to get you started in your one to one coaching follow up session

What are the options for joining a virtual Accreditation session?

We've tried to offer some flexible options for our standard Accreditation as we know many people are juggling a number of responsibilities at the moment.

We have introduced our 2 day Accreditation which instead breaks the training down into 2 sessions a day over 2 consecutive days.

The same material is covered in both options, it just depends on you, your availability and whether you prefer a longer break to reflect between sessions.

Bespoke Accreditations

If you are an in-house professional and would like us to arrange an Accreditation specifically for you and your colleagues, then do get in touch.

C-me have worked with organisations across all sectors to help improve communication, increase team productivity and promote a healthy culture that delivers. All through the shared language of colour!

How much does C-me virtual Accreditation cost?

The cost for attending a standard virtual Accreditation is fixed, we leave the option on whether you attend a one day or two day event to you!

Cost £875 excl VAT

Discounts are available for individual practitioners and charities
