

Becoming an

IFMA Fellow

The IFMA Fellow designation recognizes the most esteemed facility management professionals.

IFMA Fellows are the distinguished authors, prolific academicians and leading facility management visionaries who have committed themselves to the profession.

The elite core of IFMA, Fellows are the respected leaders, advisors and ambassadors who are worthy of IFMA's highest honor.

Every year the IFMA Jury of Fellows evaluates candidates to decide if any members will be joining their exclusive ranks.

As of the naming of the class of 2021, IFMA recognized only 127 IFMA Fellows.

The IFMA Fellows Nominating Committee is charged each year to identify qualified individuals and assist those wishing to nominate a member. While no single activity advances an individual to being named an IFMA Fellow, some individual accomplishments include:

-  Outstanding leadership and service to IFMA.
-  Contribution to important IFMA and industry initiatives.
-  Authorship of facility management related articles or books.
-  Development of FM continuing education materials.
-  Creation of ground-breaking FM research.
-  Mentoring students or young FM professionals.
